SYMBOLIC REMEMBRANCE DISPLAY ON SHOW IN KELOWNA

A symbolic display commemorating the 11th anniversary of the work of both service men and civilians alike in the above photograph. Display features a Bible which dates back to 1855 and which belongs to an ex-serviceman, a log book, which belonged to a pilot and which covers his career from basic training to service as a fighter escort, and an HMCS plaque. Other symbolic props were donated by 17 parties and firms including the RCAF cadets, naval cadets and the B.C. Dragoons. Theme of the display is pre-1939 and afterwards, highlighting prison camps and commemorating the fallen. Window space was donated by the CPR and the city contributed electricity. The display may be seen in the windows of the Royal Anne Hotel building on Bernard avenue. More than 75 air, sea and army cadets will assist legionnaires and veterans in the annual poppy campaign which kicks off today at 4 p.m. throughout the downtown and Shops Capri districts.

KELOWNA'S CHEST FUND TOTAL ONLY $368 SHORT OF TARGET

E. H. Cotton, campaign chairman, said today the Kelowna and district Community Chest drive is only $368 short of its $50,000 objective.

"Cleanup during the last few days has swelled the total collected to $29,632, and brought the objective within close range.

"I think there were enough people missed during the canvass to make the difference," said Mr. Cotton. "If these people will now come forward and make their donations, no matter how small, we should hit our mark by Saturday."

He said contributions could be made through any bank or at Dyck's Drugs in downtown Kelowna.

"There's nowhere left for us to canvass. All the canvassers' kits have been turned in," he said.

"The work of the canvassers has been tremendous and their efforts are greatly appreciated by myself and the executive."

Mr. Cotton said Vernon is starting to creep up on Kelowna in the three-way race for the chest trophy. They are now over $29,000 in their drive for $35,000. Pentacost has just over $16,000 of a $30,000 objective.

The trophy is awarded to the community which attains the highest percentage of their campaign quota. In its two year history, Vernon has captured it both times.

U.S. Cuts B-47 Bomber Force And Turns Bases Over To U.K.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States will cut its B-47 jet bomber force in England by 19 planes and turn over two British bases to the RAF by next July 1, the defence department announced today.

At the same time, the Pentagon said, a squadron of 22 KB-50 tanker airplanes for air refueling will be returned to the U.S. The statement said "there are no longer required for U.S. air operations from Europe."

The Pentagon said this will mean no decrease of U.S. nuclear power in Europe.

It said the action is "a part of the gradual change in the composition of the U.S. strategic force structure, as operational Polaris and land-based missiles increase rapidly in numbers."

The reduction of 19 jet B-47s in Britain will leave 80 of the bombers in the United Kingdom and Spain, the Pentagon said.

B-47s HALVED

The United States has been gradually phasing out the aging B-47s since 1959 and now has about 600 remaining out of a one-time force of about twice that number.

An estimated 2,600 military personnel are involved in the airplane reductions in Britain. Overall, there are about 25,000 American military men in Britain and about 35,000 of their dependents.

The two bases to be returned to the RAF are Fairford in Gloucestershire and Greenham Common in Berkshire.

The U.S. Strategic Air Command B-47 operations in Britain will be consolidated into two other bases, Hize Norton and Upper Heyford in Oxfordshire.

U.S. Soviet Grain Deal Still Stalled

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Secretary Rusk said today there may be some agreement soon on the long-stalled $500,000,000 U.S. wheat deal with Russia.

But, he told a press conference, bargaining is still going on and as of now "we don't know what the outcome will be."

Kennedy administration sources were hunting cautiously Thursday night that there has been progress on the chief stumbling block — shipping rates.

In the Russian capital, Soviet Premier Khrushchev told a group of visiting American businessmen at a party: "I got the news today that the grain dealers in America have made a reasonable approach and perhaps we can reach agreement after all."

The deal involves sale of about 146,000,000 bushels of surplus American wheat to the Soviet bloc. Negotiations have spluttered for three weeks because:

1. President Kennedy has attached a condition that the grain move on American-owned ships if available.
2. The Russians refuse to pay higher rates for American ships when foreign vessels would transport the wheat cheaper.

A secret meeting between Undersecretary of State George W. Ball and the Soviet wheat delegation Wednesday may have helped improve the situation, administration sources indicated. But they stressed that no agreement has been reached yet.

LATE GAP NARROWS

The informants said the gap between American and foreign rates is gradually narrowing because world shipping rates are going up. There is still a considerable difference between the two, though, the sources said.

Khrushchev said Wednesday the deal may fall through because of the American shipping rates. He did not specify Thursday night what new word he had received.

Meanwhile, 12 maritime nations expressed concern over the condition imposed by Kennedy.

Dr. J. Herman Van Rosten, the Netherlands ambassador, handed a note to G. Griffith Johnson, assistant secretary of state for economic affairs, on behalf of 11 European countries and Japan.

"I expressed our concern that this purely commercial transaction has been tied to the preferential condition in favor of American shipping," he told reporters after a conference with Johnson.

He said Japan and The Netherlands, the countries joining in the diplomatic action were Belgium, Denmark, France, West Germany, Greece, Italy, Japan, Norway, Britain and Sweden.

Sir Alec Wins Seat as MP But Luton Tories Defeated

PERTH, Scotland (Reuters) — Sir Alec Douglas-Home today won the Kinross and West Perthshire parliamentary by-election, paying the way for his entry to the House of Commons as prime minister.

The former peer won by a majority of 9,328 votes and it was hoped that the whopping margin, although 3,000 votes less than the Conservative win in 1950, would take the sting out of a bad Conservative defeat in another by-election at Luton, England, Thursday.

Labor won the Luton seat in a race that included a Liberal candidate that obviously took away some of the Conservative support.

But Douglas-Home's big victory was seen as a psychological counter to the Tory loss in Luton.

The 60-year-old prime minister who gave up his six noble titles to run in the Kinross-Perthshire district, polled 14,147 votes to 4,819 for his nearest rival, Liberal Alastair Duncan Millar, a well-known farmer in the area. There were seven candidates in the race.

Results of the by-election were announced today. Voting was Thursday.

Andrew Forrester, Labor, received 3,552 votes; Arthur Donaldson, Scottish Nationalist, 1,801; Ian Smith, Independent Conservative, 78; William Rushon, the TV comic who ran as an Independent, 45; and Richard Wort, Independent, 23.

The Conservative margin of 9,328 compared with 12,248 in the 1959 general election when a Tory, W. G. Leburn, was elected with 16,256 votes in a three-way race. Labor candidate J. G. Mackenzie polled 4,008 and Scottish Nationalist Donaldson 3,568.

Distribution of seats in the 630-seat Commons now becomes:

Conservatives and allies, 359; Labor, 258; Liberals, 7; Independents, 1; vacant, 5.

The 60-year-old prime minister was a member of the House of Lords until he renounced his title to succeed Harold Macmillan.

He prepared to return to London today for the clash with Harold Wilson's Laborites that will come with the opening of the new Parliamentary session Tuesday.

MARIJUANA SALE URGED IN UK

LONDON (AP) — A British medical magazine suggests it might be a good idea to legalize the use of marijuana.

Marijuana is the dried and shredded leaves of a variety of hemp commonly smoked in cigarette form by persons seeking a mild narcotic jolt.

Possession and importation of marijuana are against the law in Britain, where it is listed as a dangerous drug.

Taking issue with this legal view, the medical magazine — The Lancet — asserts in its latest issue that the effects of marijuana are probably no worse than those of alcohol, if as bad. At least, it won't give you cirrhosis of the liver. Furthermore, The Lancet said rhetorically:

"Its effect is almost certainly not addictive within current official definitions of the word."

Cheering Crowds Welcome Freed Prisoners Of Diem

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (Reuters) — A crowd of cheering thousands greeted a group of released political prisoners today amid hopes that parties suppressed under the now-outcast Diem regime will be revived.

The thousands lined the waterfront to give a rousing welcome to 33 political prisoners who arrived here after being freed from the island prison of Poulo Condore.

They were greeted for their part in an attempted coup by paratroopers in November, 1960, and were released following last week's successful coup in which President Ngo Dinh Diem and his brother Ngo Dinh Nhu died.

The former prisoners appeared in good health.

Their leader, Dr. Pang Quang Dan, a right-wing nationalist and head of the Viet Nam Democratic Party, said he believed six months should be allowed before free elections are held here.

He said this would enable political parties — which were suppressed under Diem — to be organized.

Gunman On Rampage In Cab Through Vancouver Streets

VANCOUVER (CP) — Shots echoed through Vancouver's streets Thursday night as police chased a car carrying a gunman who fired at them with one pistol while holding the other at the driver's head.

The gunman commandeered the cab after an abortive attempt to hold up a hotel beer shop, he was told.

The wild chase, he was told, was the work of a bad cabbie Bob Rathbone, 25: "If you get stopped, buster, you're dead."

Rathbone said when the shooting started he thought those minutes were the last of his life. Ten shots were fired altogether between police and the gunman during the wild chase.

A suspect was arrested by police after a police car rammed the cab and a man jumped from the back seat and attempted to flee on foot in Vancouver's east-end downtown section.

The gunman apparently got nothing in his attempted holdup of the Admiral hotel in Burnaby. He ran out and commanded Rathbone's taxi with the command: "Let's go to town quick."

The gunman produced what looked like a .38 calibre revolver and took $20 from the cabbie.

"He never took the gun from my hand," said Rathbone. "I was sure he was going to kill me. I could feel the gun solid there. He seemed very determined about what he was doing."

A little later Rathbone noticed a police car following the cab.

"The guy had two guns," Rathbone said. "When the police pulled in behind me he emptied one gun out the side window at them."

"I saw the police car drop back a little and I thought he must have hit someone."

"By this time some other motorists were noticing the chase and when one tried to cut me off the guy in the cab said: 'If that car stops you, buster, you're dead.'"

"I kept going."

"Then the police car rammed me and the guy took off."

"I'm sure glad it's all over."

LUDWIG ERHARD

Erhard Hints Against De Gaulle

BONN (AP) — Chancellor Erhard said today West Germany must support all efforts aimed at strengthening and further integrating the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

In an apparent reference to the policies of President de Gaulle of France, Erhard declared: "No such thing as a purely national defence exists any more."

The chancellor spoke at a closed meeting of leading generals and admirals of the West German armed forces and a text of his speech was made available by the government press office later.

It was the first time Erhard had addressed the military leadership since taking over as chancellor on Oct. 16 from Konrad Adenauer.

Union Officials Sent To Jail

DENVER (AP) — Six present or former officials of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers were given three-year prison sentences and fines of $2,000 each Thursday in U.S. district court.

They were convicted Sept. 20 of conspiring to defraud the federal government by filing false non-Communist affidavits between 1949 and 1956.

Judge Alfred A. Arra handed down the sentences, identical to those the men received after their first conviction in 1960.

'Cancer Cure' Men Asked To Explain

CHICAGO (AP) — The U.S. government directed Dr. A. C. Ivy and Dr. Stevan Durovic today to show cause why they should not be prosecuted under federal laws for claiming krebiozen is an effective drug against cancer.

The government, through the Food and Drug Administration, served similar notices on Marko Durovic, brother of Stevan; Dr. William P. P. Phillips of Chicago and the Krebiozen Research Foundation.

An FDA spokesman in Chicago said registered letters giving notice of the action were put in the mails today and that an informal closed hearing will be held in Chicago starting Nov. 18.

He said the hearing officer can recommend that the matter be referred to the justice department for prosecution if it appears there has been a violation of law.

Ivy said today he had not yet received notice of the hearing, but added in a statement: "We welcome a hearing in an open court. The whole campaign against krebiozen has been one of misrepresentation made possibly by deliberate concealment of facts by those in authority. It is high time that the real facts be developed by correct judicial procedures. This will show without reason for doubt the effectiveness of krebiozen in the treatment of some hopeless cancer patients."

Four Hunters Die At Hope

HOPE, B.C. (CP) — Four North Vancouver hunters were killed shortly before midnight Thursday when two trucks collided head-on on a rain-slick patch of the Trans-Canada highway near here.

All were married.

SOVIET SYSTEM

Trade Minister Sharp said in the Commons today that Russia employed some private grain trading firms in negotiating the purchase of Canadian wheat. It was normal, he said, for the Canadian wheat board to employ private grain trade firms as its agents for the sales. However, Mr. Sharp said, it is not in the public interest or in the interest of the grain trade to reveal what proportion of the sales and purchases were conducted by which firms.

Mrs. President — If She Wins

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senator Margaret Chase Smith is seriously considering entering some presidential primaries to offer Republicans a "third choice" in the selection of their nominee to contest the 1964 U.S. presidential election.

The Maine Republican, who has served in the Senate since 1949 after nine years in the House of Representatives, is expected to announce in a speech before the Women's National Press Club here Dec. 5 whether she will become an active candidate for her party nomination.

Although politicians generally doubt that the electorate is conditioned to the idea of a woman as president, Mrs. Smith's friends think that if she made a good showing in some of the primaries she would be in a strong position as a potential vice-presidential nominee.

The woman senator has taken a middle course between the viewpoints of New York Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller and Senator Barry Goldwater of Arizona, the leading possibilities for the Republican presidential nomination.

Barrage Of Questions Hurlled On Pensions Hike Prospects

OTTAWA (CP) — Health Minister Judy LaMarsh was peppered with questions in the Commons today about increases in federal contributions to old-age assistance, blind and disability allowances.

J. Waldo Montlith (PC-Perth), health minister in the former Progressive Conservative government, asked whether Miss LaMarsh or the government had given the provinces assurance that the federal treasury would pay half the cost of an increase of $10 in the pensions, so the provinces could come to the federal-provincial conference later this month ready to make a decision.

At present the federal government pays half the $63 monthly pensions paid to the blind and disabled and to persons in need between the ages of 65 and 70. The federal government pays the full amount of old-age pensions to everyone 70 and over — recently increased to $75 a month from $65.

Miss LaMarsh said all aspects of the pension question were discussed at the federal-provincial conference on pensions held here in September.

Mr. Montlith asked whether the provinces had been told clearly that additional money

Survivors Of Mine Ordeal Reported Surprisingly Well

LENDEGE, West Germany (Reuters)—Eleven survivors of a 16-day ordeal in a tiny underground cavity were in hospital today receiving special treatment. The 11 men were reported to be in "astonishingly good" health. The men—once given up for dead—were rescued Thursday after living the first 10 days without food after a torrent of mud and water flooded the iron-ore pit they were working. Doctors said the men will receive a special caloric-rich diet for the next few days. Dr. Werner Lander, head physician at the hospital, said the miners' reaction to the long ordeal showed when some of them burst into tears and others displayed nervous high spirits. Floodwaters poured into the Malsbühl pit here Oct. 24, trapping the 12 men who went down into the mine on the afternoon shift. Of these, 19 men escaped immediately and seven were rescued the next day. Three were brought out of a high-pressure air pocket a week later. The remaining 40 involved in the disaster were given up for dead until last Sunday when a shaft was sunk to a disused gallery in the mine—mainly to soothe the feelings of the mining community. Amazingly, 11 men were found alive—living on a pile of rubble and debris from a rock fall. Falls of stone in the pitch dark of their cavity killed 10 of the original survivors there. The 11 men were hauled up through 135 feet of treacherous rock after a rescue shaft was drilled.

REGINA (CP)—The Saskatchewan Farmers Union said Thursday taxation of farm land for education costs has reached inequitable proportions. Bookshellers face prosecution if they sell the book.

aboard ship in Port Weller, Ont., Tuesday and escorted to Montreal. He was released on $2,000 cash bail following the arraignment and will face trial Nov. 12, the same day as his co-accused.

The case arises from the 1957 beating of a Canadian merchant Service Guild (CLC) organizer. The board of trustees' three members visited the Montreal headquarters of the SIU Thursday to discuss the reply they received to a cable sent the ITF Monday asking it to intervene in the Great Lakes labor dispute.

The ITF replied it would do what it can to end the boycott of Canadian vessels in U.S. Great Lakes ports but that it could only "usefully offer its good offices" if affiliated unions concerned wanted to use them. The ITF would determine whether this was the case. The SIU is one member of the ITF.

DECLINES COMMENT
Mr. Justice Victor Dryer, chairman of the trusteeship board, declined to comment on the meeting in SIU headquarters he had no comment "at this time" on other matters discussed with Mr. Banks.

In Washington, Mr. Reuther criticized the creation of a Canadian government trusteeship over the maritime unions but told a press conference he had not been consulted in President Meany's AFL-CIO decision to support Banks and to attack the Canadian government.

Reuther maintained the trusteeship issue would not have arisen if the AFL-CIO had handled the situation properly through the federation's ethical practices rules. He said Banks should have been removed from office for violating these rules.

City Crime Picture Revealed

TORONTO (CP)—Crime, drug addiction and disease are spawned in poverty - stricken downtown areas of most large Canadian cities, says a report by the Canadian Education Association.

The report, released today, draws a picture of misery, broken homes and hopelessness in overcrowded slum areas which rob a teenager of most chances of rising above his environment.

Quoting instances of three or four families occupying a six-room house with children sleeping four to a bed, the report said these areas are being abandoned by all but low-income groups and immigrants.

But it warned that new slums are appearing with the exodus to suburbs—and these are just as detrimental to children. In many cases, this situation is worse because low-income families are cut off from accustomed social outlets.

One conclusion drawn by the report is that there is a direct correlation between the learning capacity of children and the economic level of the area in which they live.

Pupils from downtown areas are invariably in the lowest categories and don't show much ambition, it said. Parents have no money or inclination to encourage the children to look beyond their own block and fail to inspire them to rise above their own station in life.

These children represent nearly 50 per cent of school failures, dropouts and truants.

Westbank Trustees Ask For ARDA Irrigation Aid

WESTBANK — Trustees of Westbank Irrigation District have applied to ARDA for financial assistance to replace their 6,000 feet of main flume with 24-inch tarred, enameled, wrapped steel pipe, and renewal of the intake on Powers Creek.

These trustees are J. N. Basham, chairman, Woodrow Trull, John Paynter, Milton Lewis and Fred Usher. E. G. Paynter is secretary-treasurer.

A preliminary survey by the Water Rights branch recommended that the new pipe be buried along the same grade as the existing flume. This open flume, subject to washouts and the elements generally, was installed in 1922 to carry irrigation water for the 1923 season, and thus has served the district for 40 years.

Referring to similar possibilities of expansion as those existing in Westbank, Mr. Davidson said: "We are not in a position to be rigid in Ottawa so we think it is most essential people of the area be involved and that their judgement as to what is important in their district be taken into account."

OTHER POSSIBILITIES

Westbank Irrigation District trustees feel ARDA offers further possibilities for irrigating several hundred acres of land outside the present irrigation district, but within the boundaries of Westbank area. Land presently lacking irrigation supply.

Referring to similar possibilities of expansion as those existing in Westbank, Mr. Davidson said: "We are not in a position to be rigid in Ottawa so we think it is most essential people of the area be involved and that their judgement as to what is important in their district be taken into account."

IRRIGATION

Trustees think this statement is an invitation to areas with the type of projects worthy of assistance, to study their needs and then apply for assistance under ARDA.

In the Westbank area these hundreds of acres of land beyond the boundaries of Westbank Irrigation district could well benefit from ARDA. With investigation and study it should be possible, the trustees feel, to come up with a feasible plan for the storage and supplying of irrigation to these lands, thus creating a considerably enlarged district under irrigation.

PIONEERS DEVELOPED

Credit for development of the original system, forerunner of the existing flume, goes to pioneer settlers: Robert Goldie, Jim Silver, John Bailey, Bill Lewis and Simon Peters, all of whom took up land on Westbank's benches before the turn of the century.

Their original irrigation ditch was little more than a single plow furrow to the source of supply, Powers Creek. During the intervening years storage dams have been built on the Paynter, Dobbin, Horseshoe and West Lake, as well as the district sharing storage on Jackpine Lake.

Under ARDA planning Westbank Irrigation District pays one-third and the federal and provincial governments two-thirds of the costs. Provision of such assistance will enable Westbank district to serve an additional 170 acres of irrigable land within the district—as well as augment supplies to the more than 800 acres already under irrigation within the district.

The Agricultural Rehabilitation Development Act (ARDA) deals essentially with the rehabilitation of agriculture and

Remembrance Day 1963

Swiftly the years wheel into the shadows. It is more than four decades since 1914-1918 were vivid among us, and even 1939-1945 have long since taken their place in the drift of years. But Remembrance Day of all days is theirs and they are among us again for our remembering.

Over all the land from Newfoundland to Vancouver Island are shafts, statues, and arches. Some of these in small village squares. The grass about them is carefully cut—with what love only the heart can guess—and there are a few flowers. Some are in cities, a sudden silence in the rush of hurrying feet.

Canada is such an overpowering country with its diversity and vastness of domain that the sameness of these memorials, the awkward love of most of them, the similarity of names, touches the heart in sudden pain and swift understanding. These are blood of our blood and bone of our bone. We are one country, one nation, one family, hand in hand this day of November, this day of remembering.

Down at Ottawa in that jewel set in stone under the soft lights of the colored windows where rests the Book of Remembrance with its 60,000 names of those who died in the first great war, is set about in letters sunk in the stone of the walls a brief history of those stirring days. If anyone stops to consider while conning the compact sentences a sense of something like unbelief descends upon one and then a sense of humble glory. It is not the smallness of Canada at that time with little more than 7 million population and the 628,462 who stepped forward in service. It is the developing of the story, that these to whom war was something in a history book and an old song became marching columns who carried forward the name of their young country, placing its banner among those resolutely set to defend the liberty of mankind.

And the torch they threw—aye it was caught. No greater tribute than this can be paid to Canada's fighting forces of the second great war. There is none they more desire. The pages here, are written in history. But it is still difficult to sense how far beyond Canada's beloved shore in many strange lands and in many strange seas and along sky trails, these, our sons and daughters, carried the name of Canada. Is it not probable that in the loneliness of a far country they thought of their homeland in its immensities and the glories of its varying mantle. It was some fishing village before their eyes and the masted ships and on the wind the tang of the seaweed; it was a mountain town with its streets going up hill and down; it was an apple orchard in May; it was a wheat field with the soft wind playing over it. For those who came home that flight beyond time and place comes not again except perhaps on the day of remembrance. To those whom ever come again except in our dreams, memory rests with them; they are not away one with the grey shadows, but about us a cloud of witnesses.

It seems at times as the arithmetic of the Day of Remembrance adds up its columns that Canada as it grows has paid a heavy price for these decades. What has victory brought us? A clock chime from our Victory Tower which echoes about the memorial chamber yet cannot break its silence; a rush of martial music, bands playing and wreaths laid at the base of unresponding stone, the heart stabbing sweetness of the Last Post.

But the class is not dismissed until the whole sum is done. What would defeat have brought us? That is something which those who "must be free or die" cannot compute. They cannot imagine that lovely careless light wiped from the faces of our children and replaced by the cringing fear stamped on the brows of the children of the bond woman. They cannot conjure up a spectacle of this land with fear darkening the sun of noon day and making hideous the night. They have never heard the heavy tread of the conqueror along their roads.

Moreover on Remembrance Day we consecrate once more our efforts to bring in the reign of peace. Canada has not shirked in this strife any more than she did when the battle flags of the world were released upon the winds. It is a long struggle. We know that now, Peace cannot be bought except at a great price. Liberty cannot be retained by wishes only. "Let us run with patience the race set before us." That is the whisper of Remembrance Day, the long underlying meaning of it. That is its song, its hope, its prayer. This is the benediction which rests over Canada this November day.

Enforce Fireworks Law

Before next Hallowe'en the municipal councils of Saanich, Esquimalt and Oak Bay should take a good hard look at their regulations governing the sale and use of fireworks.

It is quite evident to everyone living in those areas that the present regulations—prohibiting sale of fireworks and their use except on October 31—are quite useless so long as fireworks can be sold in Victoria city for the week prior to Hallowe'en.

The present regulations are unfair to the merchants of the municipalities who are denied the largest part of the revenue from the fireworks business. Even worse, since the police forces in the municipalities are unable, apparently, to enforce the regulation forbidding the setting off of fireworks except on Hallowe'en, the law itself is made a mockery.

Most of the young people who were setting off firecrackers from dawn to midnight in the three municipalities prior to Hallowe'en, as well as their parents, were quite aware of the fact that they were violating the law. This is a state of affairs which should not be allowed to continue.

The regulations should be enforced or they should be repealed. Bad law can be worse than no law at all.

Short Takes

Kelowna may be known as Canada's apple capital and it may have received a great deal of favorable publicity, but apparently Ottawa does not know that Kelowna is in Canada. At least—of all things—the federal department of agriculture does not know it. The department apparently thinks that the Okanagan's fruit is grown somewhere in the USA. At least that is the deduction from a letter received from the department by this newspaper. It was addressed "Kelowna, B.C., USA." Come to think of it, the inference is that the whole of B.C. is in the USA! Separatism in the west, no less!

This problem, it will however soon be faced with consideration of one-way streets probably north and south. Then too, it is quite within the realm of possibility that Harvey will have to be made a one-way street, perhaps north, and another street—Loon?—a one-way street the other way.

IS THE STATE OF A NATION'S ECONOMY REFLECTED BY ITS NATIONAL IMAGE?

Latest Canadian U.S. Rift On Grain Said Most Serious

WASHINGTON (CP) — Differences in basic farm policy and marketing machinery have given Canada and the United States many problems in the past in their competition for world wheat markets.

But the latest rift, over a Canadian wheat sale to Japan, appears one of the most serious ever between the world's two largest wheat exporters.

Early in October U.S. officials made public the fact that the Canadian Wheat Board had sold 30,000,000 bushels of wheat to Japan at a price fixed on the day of sale for delivery over an eight-month period.

The U.S. protested that this was forward pricing and that the effect was to peg the world wheat price for eight months when there should be at least a temporary increase because of crop failures in the Soviet Union and Europe.

Canada was accused of engaging in unfair competition by offering long-term, fixed-price deals which, because of differences in marketing procedures, the U.S. could match only by involving its treasury in a new subsidy.

Trade Minister Sharp said in Ottawa that in making the Japanese deal public, Washington had leaked confidential information.

SEEK MEETING
Such information has been exchanged in recent years through a consultative committee set up by the two countries, which met about once every three months. There have been no meetings since the Japanese deal was brought to light.

Encouraged by comments from Henry Brodie of the U.S.

state department's office of international resources, however, Canada may ask for discussions on wheat-price differences with the aim of clearing the air and resuming the practice of consultation.

As for U.S. criticism of the Canadian pricing policy, Trade Minister Sharp told the Commons that the wheat board was merely following customary practice. A wheat board officer in Winnipeg said a wheat buyer can agree to pay the going price on the day of sale or fix it later, about the time of shipment. Japan agreed to the day-of-sale price, about $1.97 a bushel for No. 1 Northern delivered at Vancouver.

The American complaint springs from a complex set of circumstances, and agriculture department sources in Washington say the Canadian sale to Japan simply triggered the protest.

This sale followed similar fixed-price deals Canada made with Communist China and the Soviet Union.

As a matter of policy, the U.S. has no trade with Communist China. Privately Washington greeted the Canadian sales to that country as a good move to ward reducing the world wheat surplus.

It charged China because world prices were rising.

2. The fixed-price sale to Russia would tend to peg the price on later sales to European buyers.

DETROIT (AP)—One of the most fascinating cars in the early days of North American motoring was the Stanley Steamer.

It chugged its way into the attention of the motoring public in 1917 and remained in production until 1925.

Through the years, stories about the Stanley grew in number and detail and the cars became almost legendary chariots of great speed and beauty.

Against this background, a retired Boston banker has made a new appraisal of the Stanley car which was developed by his father and his uncle.

He is Raymond W. Stanley, who retired recently as an executive of the First National Bank of Boston. His father, F. E. Stanley, designed the first Stanley Steamer in 1897. Two years later, he and his brother, F. O. Stanley, formed the Stanley Steamer Company.

Other companies were in the steam car business at that time. In fact, steam cars were far more numerous and more accepted than were gasoline buggies.

ANYTHING FOR FUEL
The main value of the Stanley and other steamers was that they were silent, smooth-running machines which needed only water and anything that would burn as fuel.

The steamers had their shortcomings. It sometimes took as much as half an hour to get boiler pressure to start. There were all kinds of valves to set and keep clean. The cars needed a vast amount of water and filling stations were few and far between.

There were many stories of explosions and fire hazards. Many of them were untrue, but they led the public to turn from the steam engine to the internal combustion gasoline engine.

Stanley confirmed that his father's car set a world speed record of 127.659 miles an hour on a test run at Ormond Beach, Fla., in 1906. This was the first time any man ever travelled two miles in less than a minute. The brothers resolved to try another run in 1907.

GET NEW HIGH
Stories of that day told how the red Stanley racer hit a speed of 197 miles an hour as it roared down the Ormond beachline Jan. 25, 1907.

The Stanley brothers sold their firm and retired in 1917. What happened to the steam car? Other companies made them successfully. There were such names as a White, a MacDonald, a Detroit, a Coate (which lasted into the 1920s) and the Doble which was built until the 1930s. One of the final blows to the steam car was the invention of the self-starter for the gasoline engine.

The steam car then drifted out of production and became a well-remembered relic of motoring.

OTTAWA REPORT

Common Sense To Curb Cities

By PATRICK NICHOLSON

Our government should take steps to stop our big cities getting bigger while our depressed areas become more depressed. This was the theme of the common-sense, plain, appealingly made by Dr. Pauline Jewett, when the House of Commons was debating amendments to the Income Tax Act.

Pauline Jewett is one of the unusually able MPs newly welcomed into Parliament after the upheaval in membership caused by April's election. She won the Ontario constituency of Northumberland for the Liberal Party from the sitting Conservative member. True, she did not start her parliamentary career on the top rung as a front-bench Cabinet Minister, as her fellow newcomer Trade Minister Mitchell Sharp did. Pauline, the former professor of economics and political science at Ottawa's Carleton University, just made it into the back row of the Commons chamber. But she is already recognized as a distinguished member of that group who can and does contribute brains rather than bombast to the proceedings of Parliament.

AID BACKWARD AREA
Miss Jewett addressed the House with especial reference to measures to provide incentives to industries which could raise the level of production and employment in Canada's areas of slower growth. Other countries do this, as her studies have shown her, why cannot we? she asked.

For social reasons, as well as for economic reasons, she said, we should be concerned not to focus expansion on certain areas only. This is a problem understood by most countries. Britain, for example, is taking vigorous steps to prevent the area around London over-expanding at the cost of the rest of the country. So too, Miss Jewett said, we should worry about the Toronto district, the "golden horseshoe," becoming too congested. Unless development is spread out across the country, with industry and hence employment being shared out, we will lose our proud boast of being "a nation from sea to sea." And we presumably want to keep the nation from sea to sea, she added, insisting that our big problem is to keep our nation a viable entity from sea to sea. The risk we face is that two or three "golden horseshoes" scattered between sea and sea will eat all the wealth, and offer all the jobs, while the rest of Canada will be thousands of miles of under-developed economic desert.

LOOK AT OTHERS

Dr. Jewett gave interesting figures showing how Canadians have switched from being an agricultural people into city-dwellers. The 11 metropolitan areas of Canada are home to 65 per cent of our population. This is a disproportionate share of population between our 120 cities, 600 towns and 525 villages now incorporated and each with a population of 1,000 or more.

But we are not a people afraid to move. Between 1950 and 1955, 600,000 Canadians changed their province of residence every year, she said. In U.S.A. the determination to seek after employment is more aggressive; there are cities in every five changes this state of residence every year.

We could copy other countries in measures to encourage fuller employment. There are two approaches, she pointed out. Mobility of labor is one; the other is to foster the location of plants where labor pools exist. Britain, for example, gives a direct grant of 25 per cent of the cost of buildings and 10 per cent of the cost of machinery to plants which will locate in designated areas. The government there also provides substantial loans, as do most European countries, to such industries. Further, plants in underdeveloped districts may write off their capital costs as fast as they like against taxes. Such policies could well be adopted by Canada at the federal and certainly at the provincial level, Dr. Jewett suggested.

In pointing out our needs, and the measures taken elsewhere, the success of these measures, Pauline Jewett showed herself to be an understanding champion of our smaller communities in need of planned government help.

Old Auto Legend North U.K. Split On Economic Level

BRADFORD, England (CP)—Industrial gloom pervades the west side of central England's Pennine Range but on the east flank there are hopes of a boom. In Lancashire, to the west, the sun is setting on old king cotton. Cheap exports from trade - thirsty underdeveloped countries have sent the great 19th-century industry into a steep decline.

Over the hills in Yorkshire, however, the rival wool textile industry is as sprightly as a spring lamb. Exports are up, unemployment is negligible and after a wartime lull, the weavers are looking forward to a new dawn.

D. V. Price, a director of the Wool Textile Association, says wool has a fleecier future than cotton because so far the developing countries have been producing only for internal consumption.

There is a shortage of high-priced apparel wool and British firms have a near monopoly of the prime source of supply—Australia. Countries such as India and Pakistan simply cannot afford to buy the raw product and export at a loss.

JAPANESE COMPETE

The only real competition comes from Japan, which recently seized a large slice of the United States market from Britain. British firms complain the Japanese use false Made in England labels on their cloth and consistently refuse to make amends.

Most of the Yorkshire mills concentrate on high-quality worsted cloth. Exports last year totalled £100,000,000 ($480,000,000) and after the European Common Market, Canada's department store chains are the biggest foreign buyers.

Catering for Canadian tastes is one of the most difficult problems. Britons and Europeans, traditionally conservative, demand dark heavy material. Canada's tastes are more varied.

nadians prefer thin, light-colored suits.

Worsted derives its name from a Norfolk weaving village that thrived in the 16th century. The cloth is manufactured through a complicated process that eliminates all the short, loose fibres in the spun woolen thread.

Its world-wide reputation for quality is based primarily on its ability to wear well and—although wool merchants are loath to admit it—the fact that man-made fibres. But less than it can be easily combined with synthetic factors also play a part.

SNOW VALUE

A spokesman for the 106-year-old Salthair mill, the largest and one of the most advanced in Britain, believes British worsted has snob value reinforced by modern technology. Japan still sends students to Leeds University to gain technical knowledge in the famed fibre laboratory.

"Some people say we make the best cloth in the world because of the unique combination of damp weather and soft water from the Yorkshire dales."

"But those conditions are easy to analyse and imitate. I think it's because our scientists are always ahead of the competition."

The Salthair mill was established in 1857 on the banks of the River Aire by patriarchal Sir Teus Salt. The original water power has been replaced first by steam and now oil. But the mill itself—shaped in a T-remains.

It is bright, airy and not at all staid. Sir Titus, in fact, was a social reformer well in advance of his time. He built houses for all his workers, constructed schools, churches and recreation centres that are still in use.

Today his village is still the brightest spot in a rearguard industry. The only complaint among the workers is that old Sir Titus, true to his non-conformist principles, forbade any public houses. Salthair workers have to walk two miles to get a drink.

Family Supper And a Dance Follow Catholic Wedding

The Immaculate Conception Church was beautifully decorated with white chrysanthemums to welcome guests at the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Burian, which took place on October 25 at 1 p.m. When the ceremony was over, the bride and groom, accompanied by the bride's father, Mr. E. Burian, and the groom's father, Mr. J. Burian, exchanged marriage vows.

Reverend Father R. D. Anderson officiated, and the soloist, Mrs. Margaret Martin, sang "Ave Maria," "Veni Sancte," and "Ave Maria" during the signing of the register, accompanied by Mrs. Landowne at the organ.

Given in marriage by her father, George Koenig, the radiant bride wore a gown of white Chantilly lace over pale blue peau de soie. The fitted bodice featured a scalloped neckline and long sleeves. She carried a bouquet of white gardenias.

The matron of honor, Mrs. R. M. Johnson, sister of the bride, and the bridesmaid, Miss Nancy Burian, sister of the groom, wore similar street-length dresses in deep blue peau de soie. The bridesmaid, which were styled with high necklines and three-quarter length sleeves.

The groom, Harry Burian, wore a tuxedo with a white shirt and a black bow tie. He carried a boutonniere of white gardenias.

A supper for the members of the family was held at St. Joseph's Hall at 5 p.m. where the mother of the bride received the guests wearing a dress of pale green with a black hat, black accessories, and a corsage of pink carnations. She was assisted by the groom's mother who wore a three-piece wool suit in a beige shade with a brown velvet hat, brown accessories, and a corsage of pink carnations.

The master of ceremonies was George Nichols, and the toast to the bride was proposed by Father Anderson and ably answered by the groom. The toast to the bride and groom was proposed by Alfred Burian and responded to by the best man, Henry Siegmund, who also read the many telegrams of congratulations received from Toronto, Portland, Oregon, Prince Rupert, Prince George, Terrace, Kinnaird and Wilkie, Saskatchewan.

The bride's table, covered with a cloth embroidered by the mother of the bride, was centered with a four-layered wedding cake baked by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Mary Wildeman, which was flanked with white candles surrounded with white 'mums'. At the foot of the cake which was set on a mirror stood a tiny bride and groom, and the four layers of the cake were shaped into a stairway covered with a red carpet which led to a tiny church at the top.

ANN LANDERS

They Just Knew She Would Look

Dear Ann Landers: Here's a cure for that friend of "Plain Folks" who has a habit of turning over the china and examining the silver to hunt for hall marks.

A cousin of mine had a friend who did the same thing. Every one was annoyed with her. When the group met for luncheon one day, the snooty woman proceeded to turn over the china plate, as usual.

The hostess had been warned about her. She pasted a piece of adhesive tape on the bottom of the plate with this message: "WE JUST KNEW YOU'D LOOK!"

The woman turned three shades of red and has not been known to peek under a plate since that time. Print this, Ann. It may cure some other ill-mannered snoots of this petty habit. — H.M.W.

Dear H.W.W.: Here's your letter and I heartily endorse the gimmick.

Dear Ann Landers: Why is it that unless a girl gives in before marriage the fellow is not interested? The story usually goes like this: "If you loved me you'd prove it. If you aren't willing to prove it you don't love me, so we'd better call it quits."

I've been going with this man for several months. We are not teenagers, Ann. I'm 39 and he is 42. The trouble is I did give in to him a few times but I've thought it over and decided I don't want that kind of relationship outside of marriage.

Now I'm afraid if I refuse to go along with him he'll drop me. Please don't tell me to stop seeing this man because I do love him. Furthermore, the next man will have the same ideas since all men are alike when it comes to this — FIGHTING AND LOSING.

Dear F. and L.: Sorry, Toots, you lost your trump card. A girl who gives away samples has no right to complain when the man decides he likes the merchandise.

Both you "kidds" have been a marriageable age for quite some time. If he won't put the ring on your finger now he never will. Get with it.

Dear Ann Landers: I've been a stepfather for three months and it seems as if I've had 300 years filled with problems.

My wife admits Betty is spoiled rotten. She tried to make up to Betty for the divorce by catering to her. I needn't describe the results of such maneuvering.

The week after we were married, Betty smashed up my car and I blew my stack. My wife was furious because I lost my temper.

Two weeks ago my own son went into the service and left his car in our garage. I told Betty she could not drive his car because he wanted it in good shape when he came home. When I learned she was driving his car on the sly I put it in a commercial garage with orders that no one be permitted to take it out.

Betty tried to take the car out and failed. Then she told her mother I had humiliated her before the garage men. Now she refuses to speak to me. I'm tempted to turn her over my knee — just once. Shall I? — STYMIED.

Dear Stymied: No. It would make her despise you even more. Spanking a 16-year-old girl is no way to build a decent father-daughter relationship.

You need professional advice to learn how to cope with this girl. I urge you to get help. And it may well be that she needs some professional help, too.

Confidential to JUST WONDERING: Heaven??? Not! But not jail, please. "Daddy is away working" is a good answer. It will satisfy them and you will not be lying since he is actually doing some work there.

About thirty-eight friends recently gathered at the home of Mrs. Terry Houston for a surprise shower to honor Miss Louise Gabel. Upon her arrival the bride was led to the guest of honor's chair, in front of which was a large model hospital depicting her profession.

Inside the hospital were many useful and varied gifts and following the opening of these presents some amusing games were played.

A large cake, made by Mrs. Ray Campbell, and decorated in an attractive shower theme by Mrs. Tex Houston, centered the refreshment table.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Ray Campbell and Mrs. Terry Houston.

Winter Carnival Group Off to Successful Start

VERNON (Star) — Vernon's Winter Carnival Committee has got off to a good start to their promotion of this year's event.

At a recent executive meeting of the carnival committee, member John Kassa told the meeting that the committee had been in the process of the Queen Elizabeth Theatre on his recent visit to Vancouver. "A great deal of interest was shown in these posters."

It was agreed by the executive this type of promotion at this date was an excellent start for publicity.

Plans were formulated at the meeting to promote more activities for the small fry. Races and winter sports and games are being planned for evening activities on the Harris property under light, and a multi race for youngsters either on this site or on the Star is contemplated, said carnival chairman William Malcolm.

Booster tickets are now on sale under the direction of Theo Heuthorst who said he has his sales force all "organized and ready to go."

An important feature of the tickets is the purchase of one for $1 enables the purchaser to a 25 cent discount to anyone of four events, taking place during carnival week Feb. 1-14.

As planned in a previous meeting, said Mr. Malcolm, it was confirmed there would be a salute to the various communities in our shopping area from Monday to Friday, and the queens from these communities would be invited to attend the winter carnival festivities on their respective days.

"All storekeepers are urged to use the winter carnival wrapping paper and assorted sizes of paper bags being made available," said Mr. Malcolm. "Plans are also proposed to utilize the tourist information booth for two weeks prior to the carnival. This will be used as a ticket office and display centre on the main street."

Program chairman Neil Davidson reports the program of events is being arranged and will be finished in time for publication in the brochure. Any organizations who are planning additional entertainment are requested to contact Mr. Davidson.

All organizations who are sponsoring queen candidates are requested to submit their entries to the Vernon Winter Carnival Society, Box 437, no later than the deadline date of Nov. 15.

Rules of entry and criteria for judges have been forwarded to all interested organizations and further information may be obtained from Mrs. Audrey O'Leary.

PTA Revival Endeavoured

ENDERBY (Correspondent) — An effort to revive the Parent-Teacher Association in Enderby was made at a recent meeting this week in the elementary school.

Two dozen people present expressed interest in PTA and asked the present officers, Don Dewar, president and Mrs. Joan MacPherson, secretary, to appoint a nominating committee.

Suggestions were made PTA meetings might attract more parents if an effort was made to procure educational films.

Following the meeting there was a short entertainment program: A Russian dance performed in costume by Violet Drabuk; a vocal trio consisting of Linda Dewar, Murray Dewar and Janice Sawatzki; an accordion solo by Sharon Gibbons and a vocal solo by Sharon Emery. A sing-song followed and refreshments were served.

LUMBY (Correspondent) — Lumbly and District Fire Department were called to extinguish a small fire in a home occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Decoff.

Fire chief Henry Cull stated the fire appeared to have started in the chimney, but quick action had contained it and only minor damage to the woodwork resulted.

No Appeals from Lumby For Court of Revision

LUMBY (Correspondent) — The village of Lumby received no appeals to its court of revision held last week.

Three members of the commission complete their term of office this year. They are village chairman James W. Inglis; public works chairman George Morrison; and parks and recreation chairman Mrs. Josi Martin. None have indicated whether they intended to seek reelection.

Mrs. Harvey Howard has been appointed returning officer and should there be an election it will be held on Dec. 5.

R. C. McMorris of the engineering firm, Hadden Davis and Brown, carried out final inspection of the sewage system and has found operation satisfactory. He said, algae in the lagoon indicated a reasonable degree of treatment and, there was an ample depth of water to obviate winter freezing problems.

A reply was received from the Union of B.C. Municipalities regarding Lumby's problems with commercial vehicle licenses. It was decided to table this for discussion at the next meeting.

Council learned its grant in lieu of taxes from the Okanagan Telephone Company would be $118.34 for 1963. This is calculated on the revenue received from Lumby in 1962, which was $11,834.30.

Public works superintendent, Reg Blaney, told the meeting that, 300 feet of sewage had been laid on Millar street and he said, algae in the lagoon in-terly. This portion, when completed, will extend up Park avenue to Glencairn street.

A resolution was received from Armstrong which will be submitted to the Okanagan Valley Municipal Association meeting in Salmon Arm this week. The resolution is similar to the one passed by the B.C. council both favor legislation prohibiting the sale of, or setting off fireworks within the city limits except at public displays. This too was tabled for the next meeting.

Cliff Route Considered

ENDERBY (Correspondent) — The building of a jeep road or trail leading up to the summit of Enderby's famous cliff was one of the projects discussed at a meeting of the chamber of commerce this week.

The meeting was described as "exploratory and informal" and was an effort to get the chamber of commerce rolling in Enderby. T. Ken Smith, president and George Green acted as secretary.

Cecil Smith told interested citizens present he knew of a spot at the foot of the cliff which could be reached by a small car, a European type. "The spot," said Mr. Smith, "is a paradise for rockhounds."

Snagging of the Shuswap River at Enderby was given long and careful consideration. It was reported there are still snags in the river although work has been done for two years running. The meeting decided this will have to be an annual job as the river is now being used fairly extensively by tourists and could be used more if it were made safer for boats.

The meeting was informed that J. Walker, district engineer, has said the government will build a float and equip it for snagging if the chamber will be responsible for taking care of the float and doing the snagging. It was decided to give further consideration to the matter at a future date.

Legion Trophy For Soccer Teams

LUMBY (Correspondent) — Elementary school boys' soccer teams in School District No. 22 are going to have another trophy to compete for.

The trophy is being donated by the Royal Canadian Legion, branch 187 at Lumby. It will be awarded the top team at the end of the regular season play. It will be presented as soon as possible with this year's top team, Lumby elementary, possessing it until next year's soccer season.

Armstrong Horticultural Society Hold Final Meeting For Year

ARMSTRONG (Correspondent) — The final meeting of the year for the Armstrong and District Horticultural Society was held this week, with announcement of the following year show winners for the year.

John Vanderstar placed first, for collection of the most points at the society's shows during the year. Mrs. E. W. Frost placed second, and Mrs. Sam Albert was third.

A report was given by Mrs. Lorne Hoover and John Fowler who attended the convention of the Okanagan Valley Horticultural Association held recently at Kelowna. Thirteen members from Armstrong attended the convention.

A vote of thanks was given for the creation of centerpieces and Christmas decorations using natural greenery, made by Mrs. Gregory.

United Appeal Still Short

VERNON (Star) — Vernon and District United Appeal Campaign is still more than $5,000 short of its intended $35,000 objective.

Appeal treasurer Ted Bradshaw said today, a total of $29,644 has now been deposited in the bank. "Collections are still coming in, slow but sure," he said.

Publicity chairman George Cooper said he was still confident the quota would be attained sometime this week.

"We're still in the mop-up stage at present, but there is still money coming in all the time and I feel we will reach our goal figure by the month end, but even then we still had money coming in for a long time afterwards."

Mr. Cooper attributed the delays in canvassers getting off to a late start this year due to the elections, a number of canvassers apparently served as volunteer committees.

Citizens Reminded 'Remember Dead Of 3 Wars On Nov. 11'

By MABEL JOHNSON

VERNON—Saturday is poppy day in Vernon and Kelowna, as elsewhere in all towns, cities and sizable hamlets throughout Canada.

In Vernon, Ray Charlton, secretary manager of Branch 25, the Royal Canadian Legion, is convening this year's project, in which he is assisted by members of the Legion Ladies' Auxiliary. Mr. Charlton wants more canvassers, particularly people who will take over street sales from dusk to about 9 p.m. Anyone who is willing to share in this work is asked to phone him at the Legion.

The annual observance of poppy day has a three-fold objective: The ordinary citizen wears a poppy as a gesture of remembrance of those men and women who gave their lives in two world wars, and in Korea. Money so raised is used for emergencies which may arise in the lives and affairs of war veterans and their families. Employment is created for those veterans who make the scarlet symbols of remembrance.

On Monday the grey stones of remembrance, which are the cairns of affection and loyalty, more generally known as cenotaphs, will spring to new life in the grey November gloom, with tokens of poppies, tied with purple ribbons. Organizations and individuals wishing to place such wreaths, may order them from the local branch, Royal Canadian Legion.

School Board At Enderby Protests Shut-Off Of Water

ENDERBY (Correspondent) — Council received a protest from Enderby School Board about the water shut-off at the schools on Sept. 25.

A letter from the school board secretary O. B. Carlson asked that in future the school principal be notified well in advance as to when a water shut-off was to take place. He said the Sept. 25 water shut-off had caused serious difficulties at the schools, resulting in the children having to be sent home shortly after coming to school.

This had brought about a disruption of school bus schedules, and this, with the lost day of school work, had resulted in a great loss of dollars and service. Council moved a letter be sent to Mr. Carlson, informing him the school janitor had been notified in advance about the Sept. 25 shut-off and council felt he was the proper person to notify.

The letter was further to instruct Mr. Carlson that all necessary arrangements and precautions had been taken at the schools; only one school—the elementary—had water shut off; that city engineers had offered to run a hose from the high school to the elementary school, and that the water in the elementary school was turned on again at 11 a.m.

Burns Puts Peace Role As Vital Part of UN Work

UNITED NATIONS (CP)—Gen. E. L. M. Burns of Canada stressed today that strengthening the peacekeeping machinery of the United Nations is one of the most important subjects for negotiation in attempts to bring about general disarmament.

Gen. Burns, Canada's chief disarmament negotiator on the 18-nation Geneva disarmament committee, made the statement before the General Assembly's main political committee in announcing Canada's support for a disarmament resolution before the committee.

The political committee had been expected to vote overwhelmingly today for the 42-nation resolution, which urges the Geneva conference to intensify its efforts toward agreement on "general and complete disarmament." However, two speakers listed in today's debate were absent and the committee session was adjourned until Monday which puts off the vote until early next week.

The vote comes at the conclusion of the assembly's main disarmament debate, which has been generally harmonious despite sporadic clashes between Soviet and Western delegates over West Germany.

SEEKS WIDE SUPPORT

The draft omitted specific mention of points in dispute between the Soviet Union and the West as the sponsors attempted to assure wide support.

It was the third resolution concerned with some aspect of disarmament dealt with by the committee at this session, during which the Soviet Union and the U.S. have made a show of amity by co-sponsoring at the outset of debate a resolution barring nuclear weapons from outer space.

They also co-authored a draft that called indirectly for a ban on underground nuclear tests but made no reference to the deadlocked question of on-site inspection.

Minority Government Named In Greece

ATHENS (AP) — Premier-Designate George Papandreu, lacking 11 seats for a parliamentary majority for his party, named a minority government Thursday, indicating he hoped to run Greece without concessions to other parties. All but one of the 18 cabinet members came from Papandreu's Centre Union Party. The party won an upset victory over the long-dominant National Radical Union in Sunday's election but got only 140 seats in the 300-member Parliament.

FIGHT AUTHORITY

Berber tribesmen rebelling against Algerian President Ahmed Ben Bella have fought outside authority for 2,000 years.

Thompson Seeks School Probe

OTTAWA (CP)—Social Credit Leader Thompson suggested today that the royal commission on bilingualism and multiculturalism examine the education facilities available to ethnic and religious minorities.

The political leader, appearing in a personal capacity at the commission's preliminary hearing, said the constitution gave the federal government powers to preserve the education rights of minorities.

The federal supervision had been "almost entirely absent" since 1867, "with definite prejudice to the French-Canadian outside Quebec."

The commission should make a definite finding whether the guarantees of religious and educational freedom contained in the constitution were specific concessions to French-Canadians, or "general guarantees of cultural preservation to all minority religious and ethnic groups in Canada."

This was a matter of great concern to "new Canadians" and their children, to Indians and Eskimos, to whom a choice of allegiance between French and English cultures appeared meaningless.

Tailored Kitchen, — Happy Wife

Never underestimate the importance of a well-planned kitchen. In planning a home keep the refrigerator and food preparation area close together. The sink should be between this area and the stove because water is needed both for cooking and preparing food.

A U-shaped kitchen with the sink at the base of the U and the refrigerator and stove across from each other is ideal. There should be plenty of cabinet space and working surface and for this you can find room between the sink and appliances. Bear in mind that all supplies and utensils should be stored at the point of first use. Adequate storage space for such things as brooms, mops and an ironing board should not be overlooked. A housewife will find that carefully planned work centres, tailored to suit her individual taste, will make her kitchen a happy and convenient place to work.

HOME HINTS

'HERE WE GO AGAIN'

QUESTION: What can be done to a wall that is peeling because of plaster being put on directly on the stone block? There is no fur stripping, so there is constant moisture on the wall. Two coats of aluminum paint had been put on, then two coats of good paint, but it is still peeling. Any suggestions?

ANSWER: This is still another example of what happens when plaster is applied directly to masonry. Warm, humid, house air condenses on plaster, which is always cool because of the masonry. Enough of this makes plaster damp enough to cause the paint to peel and wallpaper to become stained. In this case, the aluminum paint did absolutely nothing. What's needed is a false wall built on one-inch furring strips to provide a dead air insulating space. This false wall can be made of wallboard panels, fastened to the furring strips, and which can be painted or papered. I know of no other remedy.

BROKEN CEMENT WALK

QUESTION: The walk going out from the breezeway between house and garage has broken up quite a bit. Is there a simple and satisfactory way of repairing the cement?

ANSWER: If there are just small cracks in the concrete, they can be filled with latex patching concrete, which is easy to use. Available at masonry supplies dealers and some hardware stores. However, if the walk is broken due to heaving, etc., in cold weather, it may require replacement and proper drainage underneath. I suggest writing to Portland Cement Association, 31 West Grand Ave., Chicago 19, for their informative booklet on concrete repairs around the house.

PRETTYING UP WICKER

QUESTION: Several years ago we acquired a lovely three-piece set of wicker furniture. It was in splendid condition, except for the finish. We sent it to an "expert" who told us the $100 charge was for the difficulty in applying an "elastic" paint. The results were so poor we banished the furniture to the attic. I am sure we were taken, but I'd still like to know about painting the furniture.

ANSWER: I heartily agree with your conclusion. Please be advised that all you need do is thoroughly clean the wicker—turpentine is excellent—and then spray with any top quality enamel. You'll find this most satisfactory. Incidentally, there is less mess if you do the job outdoors.

OLD COUNTRY SOCCER

By: MAC HOOD

LONDON CORRESPONDENT OF THE DAILY COURIER

LONDON—It's close at the top. Only six points divide first place Sheffield United and 14th place Wolverhampton Wanderers in the English League first division. Sheffield United stayed on top by taking one point in a draw game with Arsenal, but they are only one point ahead of Tottenham Hotspur, who have a game in hand. Manchester United and Liverpool lost a chance of gaining ground when they were defeated by Wolves and Leicester respectively. But it is noteworthy that right behind the leaders, in order, are the four teams I picked to fight it out for the title, Spurs, Manchester United, Everton and Arsenal.

At the other end of the league, champions two seasons ago, seem doomed to go back to the second division. Since they won their first game of the season, they have lost 13 games and drawn three. Bolton are little better off, with only seven points from 14 games.

SUNDERLAND ON TOP
Sunderland, by winning at Grimsby while Charlton were drawing with Leeds United, have gone to the top of division two, by a one-point margin. Preston are tied with Leeds in second place, with the surprise team of the season, Charlton, close behind and playing surprisingly good football, for a team which just escaped relegation last season.

Coveントリー are setting a hot pace in the third division, an away from home win over Southend giving them a two-point lead over Crystal Palace and three points over Oldham. Crystal Palace are having a seasonal season, and look headed for promotion along with Coventry.

While Gillingham United still lead the fourth division, they have only a one-point lead over Carlisle United, another team which has made a spectacular jump to challenge for the leadership. Workington and Torquay are in the third and fourth places for promotion, but are being hotly challenged by a rebuilt Brighton, and by Exeter and Bradford City. With Gillingham and Carlisle favored to finish first and second, the race for the other two promotion spots is still wide open.

RANGERS STILL LEAD
Rangers, still undefeated in Scottish first division soccer, and with only one draw chalked against them, are on top of the table with 18 points out of a possible 24. Kilmarnock, however, are doggedly keeping up the chase with 17 points out of 24. Behind them come Dundee United, Dundee and Hearts, who dropped a point when they were held to a goalless draw at Tyndrum by Aberdeen. Aberdeen, with only three points from 18 games, seem headed for relegation, and next to the bottom are Hibernians. Hibs have been doing some buying in the transfer market, and should soon start to climb.

Morton, with 6-4 via over Port, have maintained their record of not losing a point in league games. Clyde top the second division with 13 points from 14 games, but Morton, with 23 points from 11 games, have much the better chance of beating Queen's Park, the only amateur team in first-class Scottish soccer. Queen's Park is doing surprisingly well, and stands in fifth place in the second division with 13 points.

Bucks Aiming For Fifth Win

Kelowna Buckaroos will be aiming for their fifth victory tonight when they host the out-of-town Vernon Blades at 8 p.m. in the Memorial Arena. The Bucks are 4-1 against the slow-starting Vernon squad, with a 3-0 mark at home and a record of 3-1 in Vernon.

Their latest victory over Vernon was a thrilling 6-4 win Tuesday.

Kelowna will be hard to beat after losing out 1-3 in overtime Wednesday night in Kamloops. Ken Hokanson, a stalwart on the defensive unit for Kelowna, will not play. He is recuperating from a knee injury suffered in Vernon Tuesday.

Coach Don Culley has called up 15-year-old Doug Bulch from the minor ranks, and Bulch has done well in the last two games. He will replace Hokanson.

MIDGETS WRESTLE

Abel "Peewee" Rogers, 80-pound midget will tackle "Puffin" Superstein, 80 pounds, in a midget wrestling match Saturday night at 8:30 p.m. at Kelowna Community Theatre. The Joyce-sponsored exhibition will also see the Sharp Brothers put their skill against the "Mashed Destroyer" and "Killer Krusher" in a Canadian tag team championship bout.

Cariboo Rally This Weekend

VANCOUVER (CP)—Western Canada's toughest car rally, the three-day, 1,100-mile Cariboo rally, starts from Vancouver Saturday.

As estimated 30 cars will compete in the rally that will be over gravel, dirt and paved roads between here and Revelstoke.

Saturday the cars will travel through the Rogers Pass to Revelstoke. Sunday they will go to Trail and the rally ends Monday at Hedley near Princeton.

Entries from throughout the province and from Washington state will compete for trophies. The overall winner, best team entry, best showing by a private-entered car and first-place women's entry.

They will include Dr. Bob Brisco of Trail, driving a Mercedes and Jack Duno of Spokane, Wash.

Drivers will be penalized for arriving late or early at control points, missing any control point, reporting to the wrong control, approaching controls from the wrong direction and blocking any control point.

The winners will have the least number of penalty points. Art Bayne and Don Bell won the 1982 event with 126 points. They drove an MGA.

Hockey Drive Brings $400

The once-a-year drive for funds by the Kelowna Minor Hockey Association Wednesday netted about $400, association president D. M. White said.

"We only covered about half the city Wednesday night and the money collected was about per for the amount of the city covered."

"It was a bad night weather-wise and a number of the boys had exams."

"We will continue the drive next Wednesday beginning at 6 p.m. and with a little more effort I'm sure we can reach our goal of $800," Mr. White said.

LA Blades Win Over Portland

By THE CANADIAN PRESS
Los Angeles Blades came charging out of the Western Hockey League cellar Thursday night and into fourth place with a 3-2 win over visiting Portland Buckaroos.

A crowd of 1,886 saw more fights (five) and more penalties (23 minutes) than in any other league game this season. The hard-hitting Los Angeles team also knocked three Portland players out of action.

Stan Maxwell was the big gun for the winners, firing two goals. Leo Labine was the other Los Angeles marksman.

Ron Leopold and Pat Hennigan scored for Portland.

Los Angeles jumped to within one point of the third-place Buckaroos. The victory also gave them a one-point edge over fifth-place Denver Invaders and a two-point lead over Vancouver Canucks, who were left all alone in the cellar.

The Canucks meet league-leading San Francisco Seals in San Francisco tonight while Portland is at Denver.

LOST HUNTER, 78 NEEDED A SMOKE

PARRY SOUND, Ont. (CP)—Leonard Cooke, 78, of Toronto who became lost in the bush while hunting Monday, was found alive and in good condition Thursday, puffing on a cigarette of crispy autumn leaves.

Mr. Cooke, found by a party of five hunters, told them the worst hardship he suffered was going without a good smoke.

Although he had not eaten since Monday, he walked out of the bush unaided and disdained a medical checkup.

Sask. Fans Irked At Underdog Tag

CALGARY (CP)—Two of the most evenly-matched teams in the Canadian Football League—in their meetings this season—open the Western Conference semi-finals here Saturday afternoon.

But Calgary Stampede, who finished second this season to British Columbia Lions, have been made 12-point favorites over Saskatchewan Roughriders in the two-game total-points set. They're 8 1/2-point favorites in the opening game.

What irks the Saskatchewan fans is that in three meetings with the third-place Roughriders this season, Calgary managers only a one-point win and two ties.

Stampede head coach Bobby Dobbs says his team is in "better shape" than at any time since the third game of the season.

Head coach Bob Shaw says his Roughriders have never been in better spirits and "if we can give them a real run for we can stay reasonably healthy."

The first game starts here at 3:30 p.m. MST Saturday. The second game, in Regina Monday night, will be televised on the CTV national network.

The two clubs met in semi-final play last year. Stampede took the opener 23-0 and won

Many 'Ifs' In Trimble's Way As Als And Roughies Clash

MONTREAL (CP)—Coach Jim Trimble wouldn't mind coaching another team into the Eastern Football Conference finals this year.

Trimble had the Hamilton Tiger-Cats in the Eastern finals for six of the seven years he was their coach and he's hoping to get his Alouettes by Ottawa Rough Riders in his freshman year as Montreal coach.

But there will be a lot of "ifs" in Trimble's way Saturday when the Als and Roughies clash at Ottawa's Lansdowne Park in the Eastern semi-final.

The game will be televised nationally by the CBC with starting time at 1 p.m. EST.

Alouettes chances boil down to these "ifs":

If the field is in good condition after Thursday's heavy downpour; if halfback Don Clark can show early season form; if the Alouettes' passing attack can show early season form; if the Alouettes' passing attack can show up better than during the regular season; if the Alouettes' defence can contain the strong passing of Ottawa quarterback Russ Jackson.

RETURNS TO ACTION
Clark was injured earlier in the season and started pre-season with the team this week after undergoing a knee operation for torn cartilages.

Clark and George Dixon are the Alouettes' one-two backfield punch and when they are both hot at the same time, the Montrealers are hard to beat.

Sawchuck Tries For Shutout Mark

By THE CANADIAN PRESS
Bury, temperamental Terry Sawchuk has added another front to the assault on the lifetime records of the National Hockey League.

His push develops from within the Detroit Red Wings as a second front, because Gordie Howe is still shooting for that elusive goal No. 545 in the wake of Thursday night's play.

Coach Sid Abel says Howe's pursuit of the scoring record has unsettled the Wings.

"The guys keep trying to feed him, always looking for him instead of shooting," Abel remarked disconsolately one day earlier this week.

But back of the blues line in the NHL, the goalie fight little battle of their own and Sawchuk has been obviously unaffected by Howe's plight.

He produced the first shutout of his career Thursday night in Detroit when the Red Wings shaded New York's erratic Rangers 1-0 on a third-period goal by Parker MacDonald.

In other games, high-ranking Chicago Black Hawks salvaged a 2-2 tieoff in Montreal with their closest pursuers, the Canadiens, and Toronto Maple Leafs edged Boston's punchlines Bruins 4-3 in Boston.

The New York-Detroit game, before a crowd of 11,546, was Howe's fifth scoreless appearance in a row since he pulled even with Maurice Richard's total.

NAME STAYS IN
And when he does finally get it, Richard's name won't be obliterated from that section of the record book. It was learned NHL President Clarence Campbell turned down Richard's claim for recognition by an asterisk, based on a lesser number of games by Richard in accumulation of his total.

But statistician Ron Andrews said he plans to insert in next year's record book the totals for the top three men under all this overcrowded city.

Canadian Meet On "Family" Set For June In Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP) — Governor-General Vanier announced today that the Canadian Conference on the Family will be held at Government House here next June 8 to 10.

Three hundred people from all provinces are expected to attend the conference, which has been called by Gen. Vanier to consider ways and means of strengthening family life in Canada.

In announcing the date to all members of the national council which has been involved in planning the conference for several months, the Governor-General said:

"Our day is one of confusion in which standards and spiritual values tend to be submerged by technical and economic progress. It is vital that a great effort be made at once to establish the stability and welfare of the family in modern terms."

"For the moment our aim must be to stimulate Canadians to a deeper awareness and a better understanding of the place the family holds in society, to renew their sense of responsibility for facing problems arising from contemporary social change, and in so doing, take full advantage of the generous co-operation which has been extended by existing agencies and associations."

"If we do this and do it well, we will have taken an important step towards the larger objective."

The national conference will bring together prominent sociologists, psychologists, and social workers as well as representatives of interested organizations from all over the country.

A main feature of the conference will be the presentation of reports on the present role of the family by our prominent Canadian scholars — Professor Frederick Elkin and Dean Philippe Garigue of the University of Montreal, Professor Kaspar Garigue of the University of Montreal, Professor Kaspar Naegle of the University of British Columbia and Dr. N. B. Epstein, a noted Montreal psychiatrist.

WILL MODIFY JET
LONDON (Reuters) — A prototype of British Aircraft Corporation's One-Eleven jet airliner became uncontrollable during stall tests before its crash last month, the corporation said Monday night.

The plane, which British hopes will be sold around the world, crashed Oct. 22, killing seven experts aboard. Modifications are planned.

HE WENT DOWN WITH FLOURISH

TORONTO (CP) — When a man is going under, he likes to take somebody with him.

One Toronto motorist found a parking ticket on his car when he came out of a restaurant opposite police headquarters Wednesday night, and decided he wasn't going to suffer alone.

He stormed into headquarters and demanded that every car on a nearby side street be ticketed also, since it was also a no-parking area.

"I'm going to make sure every one of these tags is paid," the man said, taking down license numbers as he walked along with the constable who was detached to ticket the cars.

"And," he added, "I'm going to come down here every night and demand that cars parked here be ticketed."

The officer couldn't ignore what the man was saying. Two of the 10 cars he tagged belonged to policemen.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By R. JAY BUCKLE
(Top Re-d-Holder in Masters Individual Championship Play)

There are some sequences of bidding that, for practical purposes, are regarded as impossible—that is, you cannot have a hand that fits the bid or bid you've made. In each of the following five cases, specify whether the last bid by South is possible or impossible:

- | | | | |
|----------|-------|-------|-------|
| 1. West | North | East | South |
| 1♠ | 2♠ | 3♠ | 4♠ |
| 2. South | West | North | East |
| 2NT | Pass | 3♥ | Pass |
| 3. West | North | East | South |
| Pass | 1♠ | 4♥ | 5♠ |
| 4. South | West | North | East |
| 1NT | Pass | 2♠ | Pass |
| 2NT | Pass | 3♠ | Pass |
| 5. South | West | North | East |
| 1♠ | Pass | 1♠ | Pass |
| 2♠ | Pass | 4♠ | Pass |
| 3NT | | | |

1. Possible. The cuebid by North shows a huge hand with a probable void in diamonds. South, for the four diamond bid, may have a hand certain to produce a game and yet not be in a position to choose the best trump suit. For example, he may hold: spades—K 9 7 5 2; hearts—J 8 7 4; diamonds—8 3; clubs—A K 6. Rather than attempt to guess between spades and hearts, he should let North choose the trump suit. South reflects his uncertainty by responding to the cuebid with a cuebid.

2. Impossible. The two notrump bid shows specifically 22 to 24 points, notrump distribution and all-around strength. South must not punish partner for responding with three hearts by raising his to six. North may have a hand with only two or three points. The most that South can do to encourage a slam is make a cuebid, such as four clubs or diamonds, which would imply heart support and slam possibilities.

3. Possible. South may have a slam-going hand where his chief concern is the possible loss of two heart tricks. The five spade bid asks North to bid six if he has first or second round control of hearts. South might have: spades—K 9 7 5 2; hearts—J 8 7 4; diamonds—A; clubs—A Q J 8 4.

4. Impossible. The two spade bid by North shows weakness and asks South to pass, and the three spade bid simply repeats the plea. South cannot bid over and again the values he showed originally when he opened with a notrump.

5. Impossible. North is permitted to pass three spades, since the double raise, though highly inviting to game, is not a forcing bid. If North chooses to go to game—possibly with a doubtful hand—South has no right to punish him now by making a slam try. Such a sequence of bids is illogical since it puts the partnership in a position where there is no way of arriving at four spades.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW
This will be an excellent period in which to put your skills to better use and, if possible, to discover latent talents within yourself. Accept challenges to your capabilities and keep eyes and ears alert to new opportunities.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY
If tomorrow is your birthday, you should find the next four months marked by possible changes or increased business responsibilities which could eventually bring about a considerable improvement in your financial status. Optimism may influence you to impulsive spending and/or speculation during late March or early April, however, but curb these tendencies. Think twice before undertaking enterprises which may require a large financial outlay. By all means, do nothing monetarily which would offset gains.

Using your innate good judgment, you should find yourself in complete command of situations involving both business and personal affairs before your next birthday rolls around. Domestic and romantic matters should prosper throughout the next 12 months, but don't be too critical of those within the family circle in March. It could lead to needless trouble. A child born on this day will be endowed with great insight, heart-warming generosity and remarkable tenacity of purpose.

Dr. Knox Gym Full of Activity

By MARION HAMILTON

Our gym has been the scene of busy activity all week.

The members of the four houses met at noon one day this week to pick the captains and vice-captains for each house.

Now the stage is set for the rivalry between houses. These games started on Nov. 4 with the Green Versus Green.

Every evening the gym is alive with activity as Knox's basketball teams are busy practicing for the fast-approaching season. The girls may be seen on Tuesdays and Thursdays with the boys hard at work Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Our Curling Club is well under way now and with the majority of curlers as beginners, the Saturday mornings are hectic and fun-filled.

Knox was very proud to send one representative from our grades to the Kelowna City Council this week. Marlene Mullen will report an interesting data at our next student's council meeting.

This week all Knox's social life has been centred around the Sadie Hawkins Dance. At last Friday evening just as every-thing was in place, our first-aid team was in place, our first-aid team was in place, our first-aid team was in place.

The dance, as in the past, was a huge success and a good time was had by all. All in all it was an excellent climax to a good week.

Bowling Activity Increases With Fahlman Taking Honors

By SHANNON DENEGRIE

It is rumored there will be a few surprises on both sides in bowling teams were at it again. In this game, Fahlman's victory was a surprise.

On Monday, Fahlman took the women's high double and average. The bowling teams will meet again next Monday.

Over the weekend the Grade XI class held a car wash at Capri Royale. They made $34. Also the Grade XII class put on a bake sale. They made $50.

OROVILLE
The Immaculate Dons played a terrific game at Orville. Wash, on Saturday. They played by American rules and after a hard fought game they scored a victory by a score of 14-13. The two touchdowns for Immaculate were scored by Don Kroshinsky.

Next Monday, Remembrance Day, the Dons will play their final game of the season against the Kelowna Cubs at the Oval.

TRIP WINNERS
The Grey Cup ticket sales were not too good but we had a hit on Wednesday night to sell tickets. The two winners who will go to Yukon with Father Goddard are George Kamoshchinski and Rosa Horning.

By far the biggest news at Immaculate is the big football game coming up next Friday. The season of the dance will be the election of a Football Queen, Miss Knox. All the clubs have nominated a candidate each to run for Miss Immaculate Don. The whole school is participating in this dance with certain classes doing decorations, organizing and publicizing and it promises to be a real successful dance.

CHANGE IS NEAR
Change is in the air—fanned by a flurry of reports on science, research, technical development and all aspects of education: prodded in senior common rooms by earnest debate about the "two cultures."

A phrase minted by author and scientist Sir Charles Snow to dramatize the gap between science and the humanities.

Relatedly, Britons are realizing that their class-encrusted, pre-1900 academic machinery is geared to produce neither the quality nor the quantity of people needed in a brave new world. Sir Eric Ashby, master of Cambridge's Clare College, comments:

"We have created a world that cannot be run without graduates. And so higher education, which used to be regarded as a private and personal affair, now is a national necessity."

Promises of advanced education for all may sound platitudinous to North American ears. But in Britain the social and economic implications are great.

If acted on, the proposals would cost the taxpayer $270,000,000 a year, instead of the present $174,000,000. University drive and the entire area was canvassed. The secretary-treasurer of this project was Marion Walker, and the five district captains were Susan Byatt, Oyama West, Sandra Thomson, Oyama East, Don Kawano, Okanagan Centre, Richard Wageman, Woodside, and Penny Pollard, Windfield.

The net proceeds of the drive amounted to $209, part of which will go toward the purchase of new sports equipment and uniforms. The winner of the stuffed dog for the best salesman will be announced in the near future.

The last project for the council was a masquerade dance held on Nov. 1.

GIRLS VICTORS
The senior girls were also victorious. After competing in three series with Rutland and Kelowna they were determined the holders of the Central Okanagan Valley championship.

The parents' band association held an auction on Friday, Oct. 24, and the proceeds go to bettering the supply of band instruments and music. Thank you everyone for your participation and donations.

CLUBS FORMED
There have been more organizations formed recently. Among these is the UN club, with Don Kawano, president. The display in the main hall window is in remembrance of UN Day, Oct. 24. The Future Teachers' club has been formed, under the presidency of Diane Bird.

A choir has been formed under the direction of Mr. Haney with Miss Thors the accompanist. The choir will participate in the Christmas concert which will be held Dec. 19.

Members of the annual club have been canvassing the district for 'ads' for this year's annual.

MAGAZINE BLITZ
The Student's Council has been very busy lately. On the weekend of Oct. 21, a blitz campaign was staged for the magazine drive and the entire area was canvassed. Open Higher Education Aim For U.K. Students By 1980

LONDON (CP) — By 1980 every British student destined to pursue higher education should have the opportunity of doing so.

A 12-man government committee headed by Lord Robbins has laid down this revolutionary thesis in a four-volume document already accepted as a landmark in Britain's post-war drive to overhaul her social institutions.

Long awaited by every educationist in the land, the report by Lord Robbins, 64, now chairman of the Financial Times and associated with the London School of Economics for 30 years, is the first comprehensive study of what British universities are doing and how work should be done.

Its blunt conclusion is that, at a minimum, Britain must more than double her places in higher education—to 500,000 from the present 210,000—within the next 20 years.

Initial reaction is generally favorable. The report's arguments, says the economist, are "vastly detailed and enormously persuasive."

With its stress on graduate scientists and technologists, the report captures the troubled spirit of a country seeking a new enlightenment, a second renaissance.

Change is in the air—fanned by a flurry of reports on science, research, technical development and all aspects of education: prodded in senior common rooms by earnest debate about the "two cultures."

A phrase minted by author and scientist Sir Charles Snow to dramatize the gap between science and the humanities.

Relatedly, Britons are realizing that their class-encrusted, pre-1900 academic machinery is geared to produce neither the quality nor the quantity of people needed in a brave new world. Sir Eric Ashby, master of Cambridge's Clare College, comments:

"We have created a world that cannot be run without graduates. And so higher education, which used to be regarded as a private and personal affair, now is a national necessity."

Promises of advanced education for all may sound platitudinous to North American ears. But in Britain the social and economic implications are great.

If acted on, the proposals would cost the taxpayer $270,000,000 a year, instead of the present $174,000,000. University

Diem's Police Atrocities Told By Freed Prisoners

SAIGON (AP)—They stripped me, tied me over a bench, choked me with water and a towel and beat me until I was unconscious," the pretty young typist said with an embarrassed smile.

It happened last Friday, she said, only a few hours before President Ngo Dinh Diem's South Vietnam government collapsed in a blaze of cannon fire and while his brother Ngo Dinh Nhu's secret police terrorists still were in operation.

The typist is Hoang Thi Dung, 29, employed at the British Embassy, said an ardent Buddhist. She was one of the thousands of "political detainees" who felt the fangs of the secret police. Most of the prisoners are free now, and are telling for the first time what things were like in Nhu's concentration camps.

DRANK SOAPY WATER. Scores of students of both sexes say they were forced to drink quarts of soapy water until their intestines were pouring blood.

One young girl, found praying with the jubilant crowd at Saigon's Xa La Buddhist pagoda, said electrodes from the generator of a field radio were attached to her breasts. Many military advisers and foreign newspaper men have seen variations of this torture applied to Viet Cong suspects in the field.

"Plenty" Of Delivery Time Available To Prairie Farmers

REGINA (CP)—There will be plenty of opportunity for all their understanding and patient Prairie farmers to deliver their wheat this crop year but not equal opportunity at any given time.

This was Trade Minister Sharp's word to wheat producers today as he appealed for their understanding and patient cooperation.

"There is no doubt that quotas will vary greatly this year from last year," he said in an address to the annual meeting of the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool.

"There is simply no other choice if the desired export volume is to be attained."

"At the present time quotas are behind this time a year ago. The lag is explained by the fact that elevators were full at the beginning of the crop year."

However, producers "can expect the opportunity to deliver the bulk of their 1963 crop during the current crop year" ending next July 31.

"Because of the urgency involved in forwarding your grain to the eastern ports before freeze-up on the St. Lawrence, using the given railway and elevator facilities, and because of the problem of matching the required grades with those available, it is inevitable that some times expediency will have to take precedence over the principle of equalizing quotas."

"The result will be the irregular progress of quota levels as the season progresses."

This was "a small price to pay" for participation in the greatest movement of grain in Canadian history.

"There will be plenty of opportunity for all producers but not equal opportunity at any given time."

Mr. Sharp assured farmers that the Canadian wheat board will make every effort to equalize quotas during the latter months of the crop year.

Body Found After Blast

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (CP)—The body of office worker Robert Hera, 32, was taken from the rubble of a hardware store early today about 11 hours after an explosion wrecked part of the building.

More than 50 men, who worked through the night removing rubble from the basement, cleared away large sections of concrete to remove the body.

Nine other persons were injured.

A woman office worker was rescued Thursday night after being trapped for more than three hours. She was Judy Vernelli, 23, who escaped with only body contusions and abrasions even though she was pinned under a safe.

Mrs. Vernelli was reported in satisfactory condition in hospital. Three other persons also were admitted to hospital and five persons were treated and released.

Cause of the blast was a mystery. It levelled the two-storey rear section of the two-level brick building and blew out the front, leaving part of the frame standing.
